Kristin St. Marie is the assistant director of open enrollment programs for the Broad College of Business in the department of executive development programs. She is responsible for developing, marketing and managing programs featuring the faculty of the Broad College of Business. Kristin manages more than 40 programs and seminars per year, ranging from one-hour sessions to week-long engagements on leadership, strategy, finance, sales and marketing, and hospitality business.

Kristin earned both her bachelor's and master's degrees from The School of Hospitality Business in the Broad College of Business. She serves on numerous community boards and committees, including The School of Hospitality Business Alumni Board and Athena PowerLink. She helped to found Women’s Networking Association (WNA) and empowHER (a girls leadership retreat) at MSU. She is passionate about helping women grow their careers and mentors many MSU students.

Mary Bowen received her Juris Doctor and Health Law Concentration from Michigan State University College of Law (MSU Law) in May 2008. She is a 2004 graduate of the University of Michigan-Flint; where she received a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science, and double minors in Technical Writing and Women and Gender Studies. Mary received her license to practice law in Michigan in November 2008. She has eight years of practice experience as a criminal defense attorney and litigator. Mary is a past president of the Davis Dunnings Bar Association (DDBA). She currently serves as the co-chair of the DDBA’s Pipeline Committee. She also serves as an Associate Editor/Proofreader for the Ingham County Bar Association’s BRIEFS publication. Recently, Mary was appointed to the Ingham County Women’s Commission.

Currently, Mary works as an Assistant Director for Career Development at MSU Law. She advises law students and alumni interested in careers in private practice and the public sector. She builds relationships with law firms, public interest organizations, and local bar associations. Additionally, Mary develops professional development programming, facilitates career exploration panels, conducts mock interviews, and organizes networking events like Connecting with Lawyers and MentorJet. Outside of MSU Law, Mary has presented at networking conferences such as the 8th Annual MSU Women’s Leadership Conference, and the Networking to Explore New Careers Conference, sponsored by the MSU PhD Career Services and the MSU Postdoctoral Association. Mary recently conducted a networking workshop for the MSU Women’s Networking Association. She loves to encourage and empower women. Her current hobbies are reading, blogging, and freelance writing.

Lydia Weiss is the Educational Program Coordinator at the MSU WorkLife Office. She is responsible for creating educational initiatives and seminars, workshops, and conferences related to work-life concerns. Lydia is dedicated to creating equal access to resources, services, and educational opportunities for all. She is the co-founder and co-coordinator for several initiatives at Michigan State, including the Women’s Networking Association, Academic Women’s Forum, and the Reflect & Connect series. She also serves on the leadership team as the Content Chair for the empowHER Leadership Retreat for 4th-9th grade girls. Lydia earned her master’s in women, gender and sexuality studies from the University of Cincinnati and earned her bachelor’s in sociology from Michigan State University.

Angela T. Hall, JD, PhD, is an Assistant Professor in the School of Human Resources and Labor Relations at Michigan State University. She received her JD from Florida State University, College of Law and her PhD from Florida State University, College of Business. She has previously been on the faculties of Florida State University and the University of Texas at San Antonio. Prior to pursuing an academic career, Angela practiced law full-time. Her research interests include employee accountability and employee legal claiming. She has taught a wide variety of courses at the undergraduate, masters, and doctorate levels including business law, organizational behavior, human resources, leadership, and employee training and development. Angela has also authored learning modules and cases for the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM).
Susi Elkins is director of broadcasting and general manager of WKAR Public Media at Michigan State University. WKAR Public Media provides Michigan's capital region and the global community with award-winning original programming, plus the best from PBS and NPR. WKAR reaches its audiences via television channels WKAR HD, WKAR World, WKAR Create, and WKAR PBS Kids; radio broadcasts at 90.5 FM, 94.5 FM, AM 870, and WKAR Radio Reading Service; and online at wkar.org, video.wkar.org and social media platforms.

Elkins was named to her current position in March of 2017. Under her leadership, WKAR has significantly increased its commitment to early childhood education, solidified its reputation as a community institution through strategic partnerships and collaborations, and increased the station's capacity for providing experiential learning opportunities for students at Michigan State University.

Prior to her current appointment, Elkins served in a variety of roles at the station, including interim director, television station manager, content and community engagement manager, public television producer and instructional television multi-media producer.

Under her leadership as television station manager, WKAR was named Michigan Association of Broadcasters (MAB) Public Television Station of the Year for five consecutive years (2011-2015), and has earned numerous regional Emmy Awards and top awards from the MAB and the National Educational Telecommunication Association, among others.

As content and community engagement manager for WKAR, Elkins oversaw the convergence of media and programming in television and radio and the ongoing growth of original content across all platforms. Elkins holds a bachelor's degree in telecommunication and a master's degree in educational technology, both from MSU.